

NEW CABLE TO PHILIPPINES.

WILL CONNECT NATION'S INSULAR POSSESSIONS.

The Commercial Pacific Cable Company incorporated yesterday by John W. Mackay and others—it is to be completed in two years and it will connect the Philippines with the United States.

The Commercial Pacific Cable Company was incorporated yesterday in Albany and the articles were approved by Justice O'Gorman of the Supreme Court of this city. It is capitalized at $100,000, and the object of the company is to connect New York city with San Francisco by cable over the wires of other telegraph companies, thence from California under the waters of the Pacific Ocean to the Hawaiian Islands, and thence to the Philippines and other Pacific Islands. The capital is divided into 1,000 shares and the directors are John W. Mackay, Virginia City, Nev.; George H. Ward, Albert Beck, William W. Cook and George C. Carpenter of this city; Albert B. Chandler and Edith C. Platt of Brooklyn; and Clarence H. Mackay of Roslyn, L. I.

Mr. Mackay said yesterday that the new company had been organized for the purpose of laying a submarine cable from California to the Philippine Islands by way of Honolulu, in the Hawaiian Islands. The length of the cable will be about 3,500 miles. The part from San Francisco to California is about 2,200 miles. It is expected that this portion will be laid and in operation within nine months.

The time required for the laying of the remainder of the cable from the Hawaiian Islands to the Philippine Islands will depend upon how much of the cable can be manufactured in this country, said Mr. Mackay, that the whole cable will be laid in two years from the date of its completion. Mr. Mackay said that application to the United States Government for landing rights in California and the Hawaiian Islands, and the Philippine Islands, and that such application is still pending. The new company is willing to lay the cable on the same terms and conditions, so far as landing rights are concerned, as were the United States Government on the cable lines which have been landed on the Atlantic coast of the United States. The cable from California to the Philippine Islands is willing to lay the cable without asking any subsidy or any other aid. Mr. Mackay said that he believed there would be no trouble whatsoever in agreeing with the Government on the terms and conditions upon which the cable would be landed.

Mr. Mackay further stated that the new cable, when it reached the Philippines, would connect at San Francisco with the present submarine cable running from the Philippines to Japan, and also the cable running from the Philippines to China, and that a direct cable route from China and Japan to the United States would thereby be established, which he believed would be of the greatest benefit to the United States and China particularly. At present cablegrams from China to the United States have to be sent to Japan and then to the United States. Mr. Mackay gave it as his opinion that the present cable rates from the United States to the Philippines and to China and Japan would be reduced from 30 to 60 per cent. when the new cable is laid.

MONEY NEVER IN HOTEL SAFE.

Immigrant Sings the Man to Whom He Entrusted It to Be Put There.

Andrea Maroglia, who arrived from Havre with a value full of money mostly in gold, brought an action in the Supreme Court yesterday, to recover $4,000.20 of it, which he entrusted to Ermanno Di Rigo to place in the safe of the Hotel Grand Central on West Eighth street for safe keeping.

Maroglia came here on Sept. 1 and put up at the Hotel Grand Central. He told the clerk informed him that he must pay in advance. In doing so he exposed the money, jewelry and other valuables in his valise. He alleges that two days later Di Rigo, whom he then saw for the first time, came to him in the dining room and after opening a bottle of wine said that he as proprietor of the hotel would take his money and jewelry and other valuables and put them in the safe of the hotel. He also admitted robbing Theodore Stora's valise a few weeks ago of several pieces of jewelry which he put in the safe. Detective Baylis arrested this morning Joseph Peters, 16 years old, of 238 Montgomery street for breaking into the newsstand of Capt. Baylis at 100 Spring square last Friday and stealing pipes, tobacco, novels and money. The boy gave the novels to his fellow workmen in the Diamond district.

One of them told the police also confessed to having stolen Mrs. John Loughran's wedding ring and giving it to his sister, who is an engaged girl. The young prisoners have a passion for cheap literature and cigarettes.

Hallen of This City Beaten in 20-Mile Race in England.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A twenty-five-mile running match between R. F. Hallen of New York and Len Hurst, an Englishman for $50, took place today at Stamford Bridge. After the first four miles Hurst was continuously ahead. Hallen stuck to his task gamely, but he lost ground rapidly and retired when he had covered eleven miles and a half. Hurst then being one mile ahead. Hurst received permission to leave the track when he finished the thirteenth mile. He covered the last three miles in 12 minutes 58 seconds. Hallen did the first five miles in 30 minutes 47 seconds, and Hurst covered the same distance in 30 minutes 23 seconds.

The Weather.

The area of high pressure continued over the eastern half of the country, with its center over the Middle Atlantic coast. There were three areas of low pressure, one north of Lake Superior, another on the north Pacific coast and a third, partly covering a trough of low pressure, with the center over the Gulf of Mexico and the western coast of the United States. The latter showed some tendency to increase in force in the Missouri Valley, but was unaccompanied by clouds.

Conventions of Unitarians. SARATOGA, Sept. 23.—United States Senator George F. Hoar of Worcester, Mass., is President of the convention of Unitarians, who to-day began their nineteenth meeting here.

The biennial session will extend four days. It is known as the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches. The National Council held an executive session this afternoon. The Rev. Charles E. St. John, of New York, presiding, delivered the opening sermon. The meetings are held in the Broadway Theatre.

The Departure of Incontinent Herron Recorded.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 23.—George D. Herron, known as the unrepentant Socialist, from the lack of customary ceremony at his marriage, has left his home in Metuchen with his wife, who was Carrie Herron, with money and sailed for Europe. They will spend most of the winter in Egypt. Prof. Herron's plan of establishing a colony of Socialists at Chad, Tripoli, Metuchen, did not work out successfully. Metuchen did not like it.

WARDEN RILEY'S BIG SNAKE.

New Jersey's Chief Game Warden Bats a Rubber.

Game Protector George Riley, the Chief Warden of New Jersey under the Game and Fish Commission, had an adventure on Saturday with one of the biggest rattlesnakes he ever saw (in New Jersey). It occurred in Passaic county, not far from Wanauke. The snake is still enjoying a few hours of warm sunshine every day before going into winter quarters.

Mr. Riley was climbing a wood road on the mountain when he heard the ominous warning from the rattles and saw a snake lying across the road about five feet away. He halted promptly and watched the reptile with trembling interest. The snake did not coil or show any sign of flight. It merely kept its rattle moving and kept its place in the road.

Protector Riley said yesterday: "The noise of the rattles seemed to me like the automatic danger signal of the gong at a railroad crossing. I had plenty of time to get out of the way, but I never thought of it for the attack, but I never thought of it."

"I was busy watching the snake. I have seen rattlers before on many occasions but never saw as big a one before as this specimen showing such beautiful colors. It was at least five feet long and in its largest part was as big as my forearm. It was a banded rattler, showing the brightest yellow alternating with black, and its head was the size of a large egg."

"But I could not count its rattles because they moved so rapidly that they seemed to produce a sort of a long and continuous hum. I was standing in my tracks for at least two minutes, and the snake did not move anything but its rattle."

"It was the first rattler that I ever met with that did not try to get away. The day was chilly and the snake seemed to hate to leave the bright sunshine to permit me to pass. I started to play the game of quick-stroke with it. There were plenty of stones in the road and backing to about twenty feet I began shoving them at him. Some of the stones hit within a few inches of his head."

"I was both throwing and pitching and neither plan seemed to freeze him. Finally I picked up a round cobble, weighing, probably, about a pound, and threw it. It hit him on the head and he rolled over on his side. I bounded over him and perhaps touched him lightly, for he moved aside very differently and went into the thick brush on the side of the road. I made three jumps and passed his hiding place, but I wasn't jumping after a felly boy."

"I will admit that I was scared, but I felt that it was only because I was alone and had a realization of my loneliness. That snake is there yet and will probably kill me if I don't get away from it. I learned him to cover. They don't move far away from their haunts. I am told, and I believe that he can be killed or captured quickly by any snake hunter who is bold enough to do so."

"Dittmar of the Bronx in New York, might get him, but he has not lost any big rattlesnakes recently and that my father could be postponed for a while, but I have no objection to showing anybody where I saw him and letting him follow him to his lair."

George Riley lives at 190 Broad street, Newark, and is at home when not looking after the game and fish of the State. The fish and game laws, stirring up the warden or innocently robbing up snakes.

BLOOMFIELD'S BOY BURGLES.

One Malleous, and Both Found of Cheap Novels and Cigarettes.

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., Sept. 23.—While on his way to Newark this morning Thomas L. Danover, a newsdealer, noticed a light shining in the rear of his store. He went in and captured Martin Connors, 17 years old. The boy had pined on the floor a lot of novels of the trashy sort. He had torn up some fashion magazines and ground them up in the last night for 16 cents. Connors admitted that he had broken into the place and caused the damage because he had a grudge against Danover, who, the boy said, was always dunning him for 38 cents he owed the newsdealer and threatened to whip him if he did not pay.

The boy confessed to having broken into the grocery store of Bernard P. Higgins in Orange street about a month ago and damaged the stock.

He mixed up tea, coffee, sugar and molasses on the pile on top of the stock. He also admitted robbing Theodore Stora's valise a few weeks ago of several pieces of jewelry which he put in the safe.

Detective Baylis arrested this morning Joseph Peters, 16 years old, of 238 Montgomery street for breaking into the newsstand of Capt. Baylis at 100 Spring square last Friday and stealing pipes, tobacco, novels and money. The boy gave the novels to his fellow workmen in the Diamond district.

Hallen of This City Beaten in 20-Mile Race in England.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A twenty-five-mile running match between R. F. Hallen of New York and Len Hurst, an Englishman for $50, took place today at Stamford Bridge. After the first four miles Hurst was continuously ahead. Hallen stuck to his task gamely, but he lost ground rapidly and retired when he had covered eleven miles and a half. Hurst then being one mile ahead. Hurst received permission to leave the track when he finished the thirteenth mile. He covered the last three miles in 12 minutes 58 seconds. Hallen did the first five miles in 30 minutes 47 seconds, and Hurst covered the same distance in 30 minutes 23 seconds.

The Weather.

The area of high pressure continued over the eastern half of the country, with its center over the Middle Atlantic coast. There were three areas of low pressure, one north of Lake Superior, another on the north Pacific coast and a third, partly covering a trough of low pressure, with the center over the Gulf of Mexico and the western coast of the United States. The latter showed some tendency to increase in force in the Missouri Valley, but was unaccompanied by clouds.

Conventions of Unitarians. SARATOGA, Sept. 23.—United States Senator George F. Hoar of Worcester, Mass., is President of the convention of Unitarians, who to-day began their nineteenth meeting here.

The biennial session will extend four days. It is known as the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches. The National Council held an executive session this afternoon. The Rev. Charles E. St. John, of New York, presiding, delivered the opening sermon. The meetings are held in the Broadway Theatre.

The Departure of Incontinent Herron Recorded.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 23.—George D. Herron, known as the unrepentant Socialist, from the lack of customary ceremony at his marriage, has left his home in Metuchen with his wife, who was Carrie Herron, with money and sailed for Europe. They will spend most of the winter in Egypt. Prof. Herron's plan of establishing a colony of Socialists at Chad, Tripoli, Metuchen, did not work out successfully. Metuchen did not like it.

WARDEN RILEY'S BIG SNAKE.

New Jersey's Chief Game Warden Bats a Rubber.

Game Protector George Riley, the Chief Warden of New Jersey under the Game and Fish Commission, had an adventure on Saturday with one of the biggest rattlesnakes he ever saw (in New Jersey). It occurred in Passaic county, not far from Wanauke. The snake is still enjoying a few hours of warm sunshine every day before going into winter quarters.

Mr. Riley was climbing a wood road on the mountain when he heard the ominous warning from the rattles and saw a snake lying across the road about five feet away. He halted promptly and watched the reptile with trembling interest. The snake did not coil or show any sign of flight. It merely kept its rattle moving and kept its place in the road.

Protector Riley said yesterday: "The noise of the rattles seemed to me like the automatic danger signal of the gong at a railroad crossing. I had plenty of time to get out of the way, but I never thought of it for the attack, but I never thought of it."

"I was busy watching the snake. I have seen rattlers before on many occasions but never saw as big a one before as this specimen showing such beautiful colors. It was at least five feet long and in its largest part was as big as my forearm. It was a banded rattler, showing the brightest yellow alternating with black, and its head was the size of a large egg."

"But I could not count its rattles because they moved so rapidly that they seemed to produce a sort of a long and continuous hum. I was standing in my tracks for at least two minutes, and the snake did not move anything but its rattle."

"It was the first rattler that I ever met with that did not try to get away. The day was chilly and the snake seemed to hate to leave the bright sunshine to permit me to pass. I started to play the game of quick-stroke with it. There were plenty of stones in the road and backing to about twenty feet I began shoving them at him. Some of the stones hit within a few inches of his head."

"I was both throwing and pitching and neither plan seemed to freeze him. Finally I picked up a round cobble, weighing, probably, about a pound, and threw it. It hit him on the head and he rolled over on his side. I bounded over him and perhaps touched him lightly, for he moved aside very differently and went into the thick brush on the side of the road. I made three jumps and passed his hiding place, but I wasn't jumping after a felly boy."

"I will admit that I was scared, but I felt that it was only because I was alone and had a realization of my loneliness. That snake is there yet and will probably kill me if I don't get away from it. I learned him to cover. They don't move far away from their haunts. I am told, and I believe that he can be killed or captured quickly by any snake hunter who is bold enough to do so."

"Dittmar of the Bronx in New York, might get him, but he has not lost any big rattlesnakes recently and that my father could be postponed for a while, but I have no objection to showing anybody where I saw him and letting him follow him to his lair."

George Riley lives at 190 Broad street, Newark, and is at home when not looking after the game and fish of the State. The fish and game laws, stirring up the warden or innocently robbing up snakes.

BLOOMFIELD'S BOY BURGLES.

One Malleous, and Both Found of Cheap Novels and Cigarettes.

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., Sept. 23.—While on his way to Newark this morning Thomas L. Danover, a newsdealer, noticed a light shining in the rear of his store. He went in and captured Martin Connors, 17 years old. The boy had pined on the floor a lot of novels of the trashy sort. He had torn up some fashion magazines and ground them up in the last night for 16 cents. Connors admitted that he had broken into the place and caused the damage because he had a grudge against Danover, who, the boy said, was always dunning him for 38 cents he owed the newsdealer and threatened to whip him if he did not pay.

The boy confessed to having broken into the grocery store of Bernard P. Higgins in Orange street about a month ago and damaged the stock.

He mixed up tea, coffee, sugar and molasses on the pile on top of the stock. He also admitted robbing Theodore Stora's valise a few weeks ago of several pieces of jewelry which he put in the safe.

Detective Baylis arrested this morning Joseph Peters, 16 years old, of 238 Montgomery street for breaking into the newsstand of Capt. Baylis at 100 Spring square last Friday and stealing pipes, tobacco, novels and money. The boy gave the novels to his fellow workmen in the Diamond district.

Hallen of This City Beaten in 20-Mile Race in England.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A twenty-five-mile running match between R. F. Hallen of New York and Len Hurst, an Englishman for $50, took place today at Stamford Bridge. After the first four miles Hurst was continuously ahead. Hallen stuck to his task gamely, but he lost ground rapidly and retired when he had covered eleven miles and a half. Hurst then being one mile ahead. Hurst received permission to leave the track when he finished the thirteenth mile. He covered the last three miles in 12 minutes 58 seconds. Hallen did the first five miles in 30 minutes 47 seconds, and Hurst covered the same distance in 30 minutes 23 seconds.

The Weather.

The area of high pressure continued over the eastern half of the country, with its center over the Middle Atlantic coast. There were three areas of low pressure, one north of Lake Superior, another on the north Pacific coast and a third, partly covering a trough of low pressure, with the center over the Gulf of Mexico and the western coast of the United States. The latter showed some tendency to increase in force in the Missouri Valley, but was unaccompanied by clouds.

Conventions of Unitarians. SARATOGA, Sept. 23.—United States Senator George F. Hoar of Worcester, Mass., is President of the convention of Unitarians, who to-day began their nineteenth meeting here.

The biennial session will extend four days. It is known as the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches. The National Council held an executive session this afternoon. The Rev. Charles E. St. John, of New York, presiding, delivered the opening sermon. The meetings are held in the Broadway Theatre.

The Departure of Incontinent Herron Recorded.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 23.—George D. Herron, known as the unrepentant Socialist, from the lack of customary ceremony at his marriage, has left his home in Metuchen with his wife, who was Carrie Herron, with money and sailed for Europe. They will spend most of the winter in Egypt. Prof. Herron's plan of establishing a colony of Socialists at Chad, Tripoli, Metuchen, did not work out successfully. Metuchen did not like it.

WARDEN RILEY'S BIG SNAKE.

New Jersey's Chief Game Warden Bats a Rubber.

Game Protector George Riley, the Chief Warden of New Jersey under the Game and Fish Commission, had an adventure on Saturday with one of the biggest rattlesnakes he ever saw (in New Jersey). It occurred in Passaic county, not far from Wanauke. The snake is still enjoying a few hours of warm sunshine every day before going into winter quarters.

Mr. Riley was climbing a wood road on the mountain when he heard the ominous warning from the rattles and saw a snake lying across the road about five feet away. He halted promptly and watched the reptile with trembling interest. The snake did not coil or show any sign of flight. It merely kept its rattle moving and kept its place in the road.

Protector Riley said yesterday: "The noise of the rattles seemed to me like the automatic danger signal of the gong at a railroad crossing. I had plenty of time to get out of the way, but I never thought of it for the attack, but I never thought of it."

"I was busy watching the snake. I have seen rattlers before on many occasions but never saw as big a one before as this specimen showing such beautiful colors. It was at least five feet long and in its largest part was as big as my forearm. It was a banded rattler, showing the brightest yellow alternating with black, and its head was the size of a large egg."

"But I could not count its rattles because they moved so rapidly that they seemed to produce a sort of a long and continuous hum. I was standing in my tracks for at least two minutes, and the snake did not move anything but its rattle."

"It was the first rattler that I ever met with that did not try to get away. The day was chilly and the snake seemed to hate to leave the bright sunshine to permit me to pass. I started to play the game of quick-stroke with it. There were plenty of stones in the road and backing to about twenty feet I began shoving them at him. Some of the stones hit within a few inches of his head."

"I was both throwing and pitching and neither plan seemed to freeze him. Finally I picked up a round cobble, weighing, probably, about a pound, and threw it. It hit him on the head and he rolled over on his side. I bounded over him and perhaps touched him lightly, for he moved aside very differently and went into the thick brush on the side of the road. I made three jumps and passed his hiding place, but I wasn't jumping after a felly boy."

"I will admit that I was scared, but I felt that it was only because I was alone and had a realization of my loneliness. That snake is there yet and will probably kill me if I don't get away from it. I learned him to cover. They don't move far away from their haunts. I am told, and I believe that he can be killed or captured quickly by any snake hunter who is bold enough to do so."

"Dittmar of the Bronx in New York, might get him, but he has not lost any big rattlesnakes recently and that my father could be postponed for a while, but I have no objection to showing anybody where I saw him and letting him follow him to his lair."

George Riley lives at 190 Broad street, Newark, and is at home when not looking after the game and fish of the State. The fish and game laws, stirring up the warden or innocently robbing up snakes.

BLOOMFIELD'S BOY BURGLES.

One Malleous, and Both Found of Cheap Novels and Cigarettes.

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., Sept. 23.—While on his way to Newark this morning Thomas L. Danover, a newsdealer, noticed a light shining in the rear of his store. He went in and captured Martin Connors, 17 years old. The boy had pined on the floor a lot of novels of the trashy sort. He had torn up some fashion magazines and ground them up in the last night for 16 cents. Connors admitted that he had broken into the place and caused the damage because he had a grudge against Danover, who, the boy said, was always dunning him for 38 cents he owed the newsdealer and threatened to whip him if he did not pay.

The boy confessed to having broken into the grocery store of Bernard P. Higgins in Orange street about a month ago and damaged the stock.

He mixed up tea, coffee, sugar and molasses on the pile on top of the stock. He also admitted robbing Theodore Stora's valise a few weeks ago of several pieces of jewelry which he put in the safe.

Detective Baylis arrested this morning Joseph Peters, 16 years old, of 238 Montgomery street for breaking into the newsstand of Capt. Baylis at 100 Spring square last Friday and stealing pipes, tobacco, novels and money. The boy gave the novels to his fellow workmen in the Diamond district.

Hallen of This City Beaten in 20-Mile Race in England.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A twenty-five-mile running match between R. F. Hallen of New York and Len Hurst, an Englishman for $50, took place today at Stamford Bridge. After the first four miles Hurst was continuously ahead. Hallen stuck to his task gamely, but he lost ground rapidly and retired when he had covered eleven miles and a half. Hurst then being one mile ahead. Hurst received permission to leave the track when he finished the thirteenth mile. He covered the last three miles in 12 minutes 58 seconds. Hallen did the first five miles in 30 minutes 47 seconds, and Hurst covered the same distance in 30 minutes 23 seconds.

The Weather.

The area of high pressure continued over the eastern half of the country, with its center over the Middle Atlantic coast. There were three areas of low pressure, one north of Lake Superior, another on the north Pacific coast and a third, partly covering a trough of low pressure, with the center over the Gulf of Mexico and the western coast of the United States. The latter showed some tendency to increase in force in the Missouri Valley, but was unaccompanied by clouds.

Conventions of Unitarians. SARATOGA, Sept. 23.—United States Senator George F. Hoar of Worcester, Mass., is President of the convention of Unitarians, who to-day began their nineteenth meeting here.

The biennial session will extend four days. It is known as the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches. The National Council held an executive session this afternoon. The Rev. Charles E. St. John, of New York, presiding, delivered the opening sermon. The meetings are held in the Broadway Theatre.

The Departure of Incontinent Herron Recorded.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 23.—George D. Herron, known as the unrepentant Socialist, from the lack of customary ceremony at his marriage, has left his home in Metuchen with his wife, who was Carrie Herron, with money and sailed for Europe. They will spend most of the winter in Egypt. Prof. Herron's plan of establishing a colony of Socialists at Chad, Tripoli, Metuchen, did not work out successfully. Metuchen did not like it.

WARDEN RILEY'S BIG SNAKE.

New Jersey's Chief Game Warden Bats a Rubber.

Game Protector George Riley, the Chief Warden of New Jersey under the Game and Fish Commission, had an adventure on Saturday with one of the biggest rattlesnakes he ever saw (in New Jersey). It occurred in Passaic county, not far from Wanauke. The snake is still enjoying a few hours of warm sunshine every day before going into winter quarters.

Mr. Riley was climbing a wood road on the mountain when he heard the ominous warning from the rattles and saw a snake lying across the road about five feet away. He halted promptly and watched the reptile with trembling interest. The snake did not coil or show any sign of flight. It merely kept its rattle moving and kept its place in the road.

Protector Riley said yesterday: "The noise of the rattles seemed to me like the automatic danger signal of the gong at a railroad crossing. I had plenty of time to get out of the way, but I never thought of it for the attack, but I never thought of it."

"I was busy watching the snake. I have seen rattlers before on many occasions but never saw as big a one before as this specimen showing such beautiful colors. It was at least five feet long and in its largest part was as big as my forearm. It was a banded rattler, showing the brightest yellow alternating with black, and its head was the size of a large egg."

"But I could not count its rattles because they moved so rapidly that they seemed to produce a sort of a long and continuous hum. I was standing in my tracks for at least two minutes, and the snake did not move anything but its rattle."

"It was the first rattler that I ever met with that did not try to get away. The day was chilly and the snake seemed to hate to leave the bright sunshine to permit me to pass. I started to play the game of quick-stroke with it. There were plenty of stones in the road and backing to about twenty feet I began shoving them at him. Some of the stones hit within a few inches of his head."

"I was both throwing and pitching and neither plan seemed to freeze him. Finally I picked up a round cobble, weighing, probably, about a pound, and threw it. It hit him on the head and he rolled over on his side. I bounded over him and perhaps touched him lightly, for he moved aside very differently and went into the thick brush on the side of the road. I made three jumps and passed his hiding place, but I wasn't jumping after a felly boy."

"I will admit that I was scared, but I felt that it was only because I was alone and had a realization of my loneliness. That snake is there yet and will probably kill me if I don't get away from it. I learned him to cover. They don't move far away from their haunts. I am told, and I believe that he can be killed or captured quickly by any snake hunter who is bold enough to do so."

"Dittmar of the Bronx in New York, might get him, but he has not lost any big rattlesnakes recently and that my father could be postponed for a while, but I have no objection to showing anybody where I saw him and letting him follow him to his lair."

George Riley lives at 190 Broad street, Newark, and is at home when not looking after the game and fish of the State. The fish and game laws, stirring up the warden or innocently robbing up snakes.

BLOOMFIELD'S BOY BURGLES.

One Malleous, and Both Found of Cheap Novels and Cigarettes.

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., Sept. 23.—While on his way to Newark this morning Thomas L. Danover, a newsdealer, noticed a light shining in the rear of his store. He went in and captured Martin Connors, 17 years old. The boy had pined on the floor a lot of novels of the trashy sort. He had torn up some fashion magazines and ground them up in the last night for 16 cents. Connors admitted that he had broken into the place and caused the damage because he had a grudge against Danover, who, the boy said, was always dunning him for 38 cents he owed the newsdealer and threatened to whip him if he did not pay.

The boy confessed to having broken into the grocery store of Bernard P. Higgins in Orange street about a month ago and damaged the stock.

He mixed up tea, coffee, sugar and molasses on the pile on top of the stock. He also admitted robbing Theodore Stora's valise a few weeks ago of several pieces of jewelry which he put in the safe.

Detective Baylis arrested this morning Joseph Peters, 16 years old, of 238 Montgomery street for breaking into the newsstand of Capt. Baylis at 100 Spring square last Friday and stealing pipes, tobacco, novels and money. The boy gave the novels to his fellow workmen in the Diamond district.

Hallen of This City Beaten in 20-Mile Race in England.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A twenty-five-mile running match between R. F. Hallen of New York and Len Hurst, an Englishman for $50, took place today at Stamford Bridge. After the first four miles Hurst was continuously ahead. Hallen stuck to his task gamely, but he lost ground rapidly and retired when he had covered eleven miles and a half. Hurst then being one mile ahead. Hurst received permission to leave the track when he finished the thirteenth mile. He covered the last three miles in 12 minutes 58 seconds. Hallen did the first five miles in 30 minutes 47 seconds, and Hurst covered the same distance in 30 minutes 23 seconds.

The Weather.

The area of high pressure continued over the eastern half of the country, with its center over the Middle Atlantic coast. There were three areas of low pressure, one north of Lake Superior, another on the north Pacific coast and a third, partly covering a trough of low pressure, with the center over the Gulf of Mexico and the western coast of the United States. The latter showed some tendency to increase in force in the Missouri Valley, but was unaccompanied by clouds.

Conventions of Unitarians. SARATOGA, Sept. 23.—United States Senator George F. Hoar of Worcester, Mass., is President of the convention of Unitarians, who to-day began their nineteenth meeting here.

The biennial session will extend four days. It is known as the National Conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches. The National Council held an executive session this afternoon. The Rev. Charles E. St. John, of New York, presiding, delivered the opening sermon. The meetings are held in the Broadway Theatre.

The Departure of Incontinent Herron Recorded.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 23.—George D. Herron, known as the unrepentant Socialist, from the lack of customary ceremony at his marriage, has left his home in Metuchen with his wife, who was Carrie Herron, with money and sailed for Europe. They will spend most of the winter in Egypt. Prof. Herron's plan of establishing a colony of Socialists at Chad, Tripoli, Metuchen, did not work out successfully. Metuchen did not like it.

WARDEN RILEY'S BIG SNAKE.

New Jersey's Chief Game Warden Bats a